Just A Stroke Of The Keys FPL Summer Program Sign-up is On-line

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. – Flip on the computer, touch the keys, put in your name and abracadabra! you have just signed-up for the best ever Fayetteville Public Library Summer Reading Program. Children and families interested in “Paws, Claws, Scales and Tales,” can sign-up on-line at the computer on the children’s desk or from a home computer. “Creature Feature” teens sign-up at the Reference Desk, second floor, or from their home computer. Independent readers, either elementary age or teen, just sign-up, get a logbook to track their reading, and by the end of the summer, are eligible for prizes. Listeners (those too young to read) do not have to sign-up; they just keep a logbook with help from mom and dad. All readers and listeners must bring their logbooks to the library, which can be printed off at home or picked up while at the library, to report reading progress and claim prizes.

Whether you are out for a tail wagging good time or a creature feature, make tracks to the Fayetteville Public Library and enjoy free weekly events for all ages throughout the hot months. Check out the programs and workshops at www.faylib.org. Sign-up online and be a SRP member. Remember, fun and learning are only key strokes away.

When: Throughout the summer, during business hours, everyday

Where: Fayetteville Public Library,

Children’s Desk for elementary readers, Reference desk for teens, or a home computer
