Evanced Launches 2009 Summer Reading Software

Indianapolis, IN – March 2, 2009 – Evanced Solutions has released version 7 of their increasingly popular Summer Reader software. This release marks the beginning of the 2009 summer reading season and includes a dozen new features suggested by over fifty librarians across the United States and Canada. New features include:

- Auditing trails that allow staff to easily follow and review changes to records as well as the date and time of the changes.
- New email features including a 30-day email log that tracks all emails sent from Summer Reader and a new “Random Drawing Winner” email template.
- Multi-language support of languages including Spanish, French, Italian and any other Latin-based language. Spanish and French frameworks are provided with the software. Summer Reading participants may also receive emails in the language of their choice.
- Web Widgets that enable seamless incorporation of everything from the Summer Reader log-in to book reviews on the library’s home page, while maintaining the style, look, and feel of the library’s overall website.
- Enhanced Program Management and Program Setup Features including improved icons and buttons, editable patron reviews, and a reading list option that allows patrons to read book reviews by other library patrons and create a list of books they would like to read without ever leaving Summer Reader.

For additional information about version 7 as well as news about statewide installations of the Summer Reader software in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, and Arizona, visit the Evanced Solutions blog www.evanced.blogspot.com and the Evanced website at www.evancedsolutions.com.
