Pennsylvania and Arizona Join Statewide Online Summer Reading

Indianapolis, IN – March 18, 2009 – Evanced Solutions announced today that Pennsylvania and Arizona have joined Massachusetts as statewide Summer Reader customers. Summer Reader is a cost-effective web-based management tool for summer and year-round reading programs and interest groups.

“These statewide initiatives are a huge cost savings for libraries, and allow a more streamlined leveraging of summer reading resources to help libraries across participating states,” says Evanced Co-Founder Rob Cullin. Arizona, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania have licensed Summer Reader for at least all of their state’s public libraries and, in some cases, their school libraries. To date, over 600 libraries covering more than 3,500 locations will be utilizing Summer Reader to help manage their summer reading programs and connect with their readers through a dynamic, but managed online system.
